'IRON LUNG' FOR STATE HOSPITAL HERE NOW LIKELY

Gov. Horner Authorizes Purchase of Seven for Public Use

One of seven "iron lungs," state purchase of which was authorized today by Gov. Henry Horner, may be located at the Dixon state hospital, an Associated Press message to The Telegraph from Springfield stated today. The lungs will be for public use in infantile paralysis cases, accidents and other emergencies, and the tentative plans call for the mechanical respirators to be located here and in state hospitals at Kankakee, Jacksonville, Peoria, Alton, Anna and Chicago—locations designed to make them accessible to all sections of the state.

Trained staffs will operate the apparatus while state police will be instructed in steps to be followed when a respirator is required, the governor said.

Plan Special Trucks
Especially equipped trucks will stand in readiness to take the machines to patients in the event their condition prevents removal to the hospitals.

The governor said he was prompted to approve the order for the iron lungs because of the general need for more of the machines in the state and because privately owned ones—some of which are in hospitals at Chicago, Freeport and Springfield—"often were inaccessible when needed most."

He said the machines would cost approximately $2,000 each and would be paid for from a public fund for the suppression of communicable diseases, of which infantile paralysis is one. He added that as far as was known, the purchase would give Illinois the largest number of respirators of any state.

To Train Staffs

Dr. Paul Harmon, superintendent of the division for handicapped children in the public welfare department, under present plans, will train the seven staffs placed in charge of the machines. Physicians will be notified as to the location of the respirators and procedure to be followed in their use.

The department of public health will assist in the operation and use of the machines.

While iron lungs are used largely in certain types of infantile paralysis, they are also employed in accident cases and other illnesses where respiratory organs are temporarily paralyzed.

Dixon Police Keep After Violators of Traffic Ordinance

The police department is conducting close observation of violators of a city ordinance which prohibits four persons from occupying the front seat of automobiles. Nine violators have been arrested and fined and another was to report this evening. Several have been arrested and fined for violating the one-way ordinance which prevails on the one block on Lincoln Street Drive between Hennepin and Peoria avenue. For several weeks drivers were warned against driving west on that street and entering Peoria avenue traffic.

In enforcing the ordinance which prohibits four passengers riding in the driver's seat of automobiles, police have found instances where back seats of cars were vacant while the occupants crowded in the front seat and in other instances passengers were riding on the running boards. Particular attention is being paid to these and other violations of the traffic ordinance of the city.

William H. Snook, Polo, Died Today

(Telegraph Special Service)
Polo, Aug. 31.—William H. Snook, 73, for 37 years a rural mail carrier out of the Polo post office, passed away at his home, 404 South Franklin street, at 6:15 o'clock this morning, death resulting from a complication of ailments, with which he had suffered ten days. Funeral services will be held at the home at 2 p. m. Friday, the Rev. Sidney Bloomquist of the Methodist church officiating. Interment will be at Mount Zion cemetery, four miles west of Ore.

Mr. Snook was born near Millidgeville June 5, 1865, and was married Dec. 16, 1888, to Millie M. Tice, all of their married life being spent in Polo. Survivors are the widow, four children, Ralph and Robert of Polo, Ray of Michigan City, Ind., and Mrs. J. J. Wagner of Amboy; and two sisters, Mrs. Henry R. Waterbury of Polo and Mrs. Mary S. Burbank of Cicero.

Wife Good Sport

London, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Ron Whyte of South Australia is on vacation here and is going to have a good time. His wife has given him a written permit to do so, to wit:
"This is to certify that I 'Jackie,' the legally wedded wife of Ron Whyte, do hereby permit my husband to go wherever he pleases, drink when he pleases and whatever he pleases, and I furthermore permit him to keep and enjoy the company of any lady he sees fit, as I know he is a good judge, I want him to back horses and enjoy life in this world, for he will be a long time dead."

ROCKFORD SCENE OF BIGGEST FARM PICNIC IN WORLD

Twenty - Seventh Annual
Trask Bridge Event
Is Held Today

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Andrew's Grove looked like a state fair grounds today.

The world's largest farm picnic was under way.

Twenty-seven years ago, the first Trask Bridge picnic, sponsored by the Burrill Grange was held in the same grove.

Today serried ranks of automobiles filled an 80-acre field which then was green with growing grain.

The grove itself provided the parking places for that 1911 picnic. Farmers from the neighborhood and a few adjacent communities tied their teams to the trees. The conveyances behind the dusty teams were carriages, surreys, Democrat wagons, spring wagons, buggies, and plain old lumber wagons. At noon, the teams were fed and watered before the picnicers sat down to their own lunches of fried chicken, potato salad and all the assorted trimmings.

Expect 50,000 Today

Today 50,000 were expected. A big force of state policemen was assigned to get the tangled web of stately limousines, ordinary automobiles and jalopies safely into the huge field set aside for a parking lot.

Stands and concessions team in the grove today. Exhibits strangely reminiscent of state and county fairs crowd the surrounding fields.

A continuous program of music, speeches and vaudeville acts was arranged to amuse crowds content to remain in the shady grove. Many neighboring fields were cluttered with exhibits of the latest farming machinery. More than 30 tractors were on display.

Events of the Day

Several baseball games were scheduled and radio stars and politicians promised to sing and speak. A plowing contest with the contestants piloting late rubber tired model tractors was a special attraction.

Twenty-seven years ago there may have been speeches. Nobody seems to remember now. Certainly there was a program of sorts, probably some singing. A few automobiles of the period may have made the trek to the site, but not many. If there were any present, they were the subject of much curiosity.

Today's program calls for a log chopping contest

a parachute jumper leaping from an airplane, hog and husband calling contests, horseshoe pitching and displays of bakery goods, canning projects and the numerous hings a farmer or his wife might enter for a prize.

SQUIRREL STOPS SERVICE

Belyderville, Ill., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Electric light and power service in approximately 100 farms in Manchester township was cut off suddenly today. Repairsmen three hours later traced the cause to an electrocuted squirrel dangling from a 4,000 volt power line.

The Boone county Farm Bureau reported thousands of acres of small grains in northern Illinois had been cut, shocked and ready to thresh but ruined by repeated rains in recent weeks. The bureau said many shocks had been so rotted the grain could not be used for feed and farmers had abandoned attempts to thresh. Many shocks of oats, repeatedly

REPUBLICANS AT STATE GATHERING DRAFT PLATFORM

Lyons Declares New Deal
Has Failed to Solve
National Problems

BY ROBERT P. HOWARD

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 31.—(AP)—A liberalized platform, calling for higher old age pensions, was drafted today as the Republican state convention in an atmosphere of harmony heard its senatorial candidate, Richard J. Lyons, demand protection of American markets.

Lyons was the keynote, declaring the Roosevelt administration has failed to solve national problems and scoffing at recent Horner-Kelly Democratic harmony moves.

Lyons and other speakers emphasized the belief that farmers and industrial workers would benefit from tariff bars against imports.

As advance differences were largely composed by the resolutions committee, party leaders took the stands for old age pensions of at least $30 a month, the present maximum with easier qualifications.

The platform pledged the party to continue a jobs program through public works projects paying union wage scales.

State Chairman A. K. Stiles of Sycamore acted as temporary chairman, turning over the gavel to Congressman Everett M. Dirksen of Pekin, permanent chairman.

Edward F. Moore, Cook county chairman who helped sponsor the Lyons slate of G. O. P. candidates was the convention's secretary.

Former Governor Louis L. Emmerson appeared on the program as chairman of the committee to nominate three candidates for trustees of the University of Illinois.

Crowd Boos

The crowd boomed when Lyons mentioned Horner and Kelly and laughed when he called them "birds of a feather."

The platform—some 1,200 words in length—stated jobs were the "paramount need" of the nation.

"Republicans propose to put America back to work," it said. "Until confidence in government is restored there can be no return to good times."

Finished at daybreak by the committee headed by Edward A. Hayes of Decatur, the G. O. P. platform said old age pensions should be at least $30 a month, the present maximum, but did not endorse suggestions by some Republican leaders that at least $50 be promised idle persons of 65, solely on the basis of age.

Prevailing union wages for the continued public works program were promised by the platform drafters, who denounced politics in relief and took a stand against sit-down strikes. On the labor issue, the platform said:

"We oppose as un-American and against the interests of labor the vesting of power in any governmental board to enforce involuntary servitude, either directly or indirectly."

Day's Fish Story

Mount Carmel, Ill., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Albert Grouser, Wabash river fisherman, came to market with four catfish weighing 103 pounds. He caught the largest one—a 48 pounder—on a trot line but said it took him half an hour to get it into his boat. He declared it was a dwarf compared with the 98 pounder he caught in 1923.

Thousands of Acres of Grain in Boone County Ruined by Moisture

Chicago, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Rain soaked Illinois farms today, adding to the troubles of farmers in the northern part of the state who have watched small grains rotting in the fields.

Forecaster J. R. Lloyd said the rain was light to moderate in the state except for downpours last night at Peoria where 1.48 inches was recorded and Havana, 1.43 inches.

The Boone county Farm Bureau reported thousands of acres of small grains in northern Illinois had been cut, shocked and ready to thresh but ruined by repeated rains in recent weeks. The bureau said many shocks had been so rotted the grain could not be used for feed and farmers had abandoned attempts to thresh. Many shocks of oats, repeatedly

CRIME TRAIL OF PAIR KILLED IN INDIANA KNOWN

Indianapolis, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Federal agents, state police and county detectives traced back today the crime trail of two Texas convicts shot to death by deputy sheriffs here just over five weeks after they escaped from a state prison farm in an officer's automobile.

The men were identified tentatively as John Bowman and Tilgham Van Acker, trustees who fled from Wynn state prison farm at Huntsville, Tex., last July 24 in the car of Capt. R. H. Bauhn.

Three deputy sheriffs shot them at dawn here yesterday. The gunmen opened fire with pistols as the deputies drew up to their taxicab.

Their identities were learned through fingerprint classifications telegraphed to the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington, D. C.

Two persons identified them as holdup men:

Thomas Coady of Kokomo, who works in his father's grocery, said they were the gunmen who took $70 from him Monday.

Irwin Rosenbaum, owner of a clothing store at South Bend, said they had held him up several days ago.

Bowman, alias Jess Williams, at the time of his escape was serving 99 years for robbery and theft. He was sentenced from Gregg county, Texas, in 1934. He was from Blackwell, Okla.

Van Acker was serving 35 years for robbery and theft from Tarrant and Harris counties. His sentence was imposed in 1935. He had served in the New Mexico and Fort Leavenworth, Kas., federal penitentiaries.

Sterling Grocery Store is Held Up

An unmasked youthful bandit, flourishing a nickel plated revolver, held up Miss Inda Pfundstein at the Pfundstein neighborhood grocery in the east section of Sterling last evening about 8 o'clock, and scooped between $80 and $100 from the cash register, then made his escape. The stranger entered the store when Miss Pfundstein was alone, quickly negotiated the bold holdup and walked out, going east from the store. Miss Pfundstein was able to obtain a very good description of the bandit which she furnished the Sterling police immediately after the holdup. Police of several northern cities were notified and given a description of the bandit.

FUNERAL OF FORMER DIXONITE TOMORROW

The body of Mrs. Rowland Hall, formerly of Dixon, who passed away yesterday in a Hutchinson, Minn., hospital, arrived in Dixon today and was taken to the home of her brother, James Skeffington, 611 College ave. Funeral services will be held there at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, and at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30. Burial will be at Oakwood.

John Smyth Passed Away Late Tuesday

MOUTHPIECE OF GANG RECOUNTS HINES PAYMENTS

Dixie Davis "Put Finger" Directly on Tammany Dist. Leader

New York, Aug. 31.—(AP)—J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, 32-year-old "kid mouthpiece" of the Dutch Schultz policy racket, testified today in the conspiracy trial of Tammany district leader James J. Hines that he paid Hines approximately $40,000 as political "fixer" for the mob between October, 1932, and July, 1935.

Davis by his testimony "put the finger" directly on the Democratic political leader. He swore he paid Hines at least ten times a year himself. The prosecution considers Davis its most important witness, even including John F. Curry, former Tammany boss, who told of the power Tammany had over police assignments.

George Weinberg, former business manager of the Schultz combine, has previously testified that he also gave Hines his "take" as "front" for the racket.

15 or 20 Payments

From October, 1932, to the end of 1933, Davis said, he paid Hines out of racket money "about 15 or 20 times" at a rate of between $500 and $1,000 each time.

"Mostly Hines asked for the money," Davis said, "and I had orders from the Dutchman to give him whatever he asked for, within a reasonable limit. I understood the limit was fixed at $1,000 a time."

"I visited Hines' home with Schultz," the witness swore, "and later went to see Hines with Leo Rosenthal."

Rosenthal was a Hines aide at his Monongahela Democratic club.

"I told Hines I heard he needed money, so I gave him $2,000."

"What did he say?"

"Thank you."

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey had Davis describe a series of "social" trips he took with Hines, and the witness added:

"Hines asked me for 'numbers' game money any number of times."

"How many times?"

"At least 15 or 20 times, at irregular intervals, from November, 1932, to the end of 1933," Davis replied.

Admitted Perjury

Davis blandly conceded, under questioning by Dewey, that he had committed perjury "many times" in the past, declaring as to one specific instance:

"I may have told the truth, but I can't recall."

Spectators laughed.

Davis' story of paying Hines the $2,000 "fix" money corroborated previous testimony by Weinberg.

Davis said on his "social" trips with Hines they went "all around the town."

Dewey's method in having Davis concede previous perjury on direct examination apparently was designed to beat the defense to that point.

The dapper young lawyer, disbarred after his Schultz connections became known, took the stand after Curry had testified under cross examination to his long feud with Hines.

"I did not blame Hines for my deposit from the leadership of Tammany Hall," Curry said. "But I have never spoken to him since then."

Warning to Three

Although this warning was not known to have been sent directly to either President Benes of Czechoslovakia, Reichsfuehrer Hitler or Konrad Henlein, the Sudeten German chieftain, the fact that it was made public as the view of the London government was believed to ensure it would reach all three.

Assurance that the French government shared this view was understood to have been given to Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax by Charles Corbin, the French ambassador, when the latter called at the foreign office this morning.

Joseph P. Kennedy, United States Ambassador, also conferred with Halifax to supplement the information on the central European crisis he obtained yesterday in a talk with Chamberlain and Ambassador Henderson.

Sent Out SOS

Philadelphia, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The U. S. Secret Service office sent out an SOS for aid today—to stem an invasion of cockroaches. "Something will have to be done," declared Chief William Landvoight, "or these pests will walk away with the furniture." They're so numerous, he added, that the agents are reluctant to hang up their hats in the office.

HITLER TO GET PERSONAL WARNING ING OF BRITAIN

Ambassador to Sound Vigorous Admonition
in Berlin

London, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Britain's ambassador to Germany left by plane for Berlin today armed with what informed persons said was authority to warn Germany in vigorous terms that Britain might not be able to remain neutral if war came in central Europe.

The envoy, Sir Neville Henderson, looked grave as he boarded his plane at 1:15 P. M.

Henderson was expected to arrive in Berlin shortly after 6 P. M. and to see Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop soon thereafter. Diplomatic quarters there believed he was bringing a personal message for Reichsfuehrer Hitler from Prime Minister Chamberlain.

Persons close to the British government said Henderson was authorized to reiterate privately to Hitler if necessary the warning voiced at Lanark Saturday by Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer—in substance, that Britain might not be able to remain aloof if the German-Czechoslovak crisis over the Sudeten Germans lead to open conflict.

Met With Cabinet

Henderson, who attended a meeting of the British cabinet yesterday, was said to be empowered to say to Germany's leaders that the British government was convinced:

First, that France can not easily evade her obligations to aid Czechoslovakia against aggression;

Second, that if France is involved in war with Germany Britain can not afford to let her be beaten.

British efforts to settle the German-Czechoslovak crisis by conciliation continued. From all authoritative British quarters came a warning evidently intended for the parties chiefly concerned.

"The feeling appears to be growing in London," said an authorized spokesman, "that if any party concerned in the issues at stake should show themselves lacking in a real desire to contribute toward a settlement they must obviously, in view of those issues, be guilty of criminal folly."

Warning to Three

Although this warning was not known to have been sent directly to either President Benes of Czechoslovakia, Reichsfuehrer Hitler or Konrad Henlein, the Sudeten German chieftain, the fact that it was made public as the view of the London government was believed to ensure it would reach all three.

Assurance that the French government shared this view was understood to have been given to Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax by Charles Corbin, the French ambassador, when the latter called at the foreign office this morning.

Joseph P. Kennedy, United States Ambassador, also conferred with Halifax to supplement the information on the central European crisis he obtained yesterday in a talk with Chamberlain and Ambassador Henderson.

SENATOR SMITH, ON PURGE LIST, EASILY WINNER

McAdoo Beaten in California Despite Pleas of Roosevelt

(By the Associated Press)

Senatorial candidates with the personal backing of President Roosevelt were on the short ends of Democratic primary returns today from South Carolina and California.

Ellison D. Smith crushed Roosevelt's first effort to unseat a Democratic senator by winning renomination in South Carolina. With returns 90 per cent complete, the veteran of 30 years service held a margin of more than 27,000 votes over the New Deal entry, Gov. Olin D. Johnston.

Despite repeated presidential aid, Senator William Gibbs McAdoo was more than 30,000 votes behind Sheridan Downey, who made a novel pension plan an issue. Downey had 173,036 votes to 141,649 for McAdoo with 6,591 of the 12,438 precincts tabulated.

As Smith, 74-year-old Democratic dean of the senate watched the results turn into rout for Johnston, he donned a red shirt in the spirit of 1876 and declared:

"Dictator" Unwanted

"No man dares to come into South Carolina and try to dictate to the sons of those men who held the hands of (Gen. Robert E.) Lee and Hampton." "Wade Hampton was the state's candidate for governor who was elected in 1876, ending carpetbag and negro domination."</

THE CLOUDED MOON
By MAX SALTSMARSH

The Characters
Hugo Stern, handsome author, living on the French Riviera.
Archie Lumsden, myself, his friend.
Ottile Willis, beautiful American heiress.

Yesterday. To prevent the murder of Virgo Willis we plan a campaign. Hugo will investigate the word "Armourie," from the dead girl's letter; I'm to investigate the Chateau la Vague, and Dunning will keep an eye on Geiss and two of his henchmen in crime.

Chapter 21
The Chateau la Vague
The tea party drew to a close. At last the shadow of the cork tree lengthened on the terrace and a welcome breeze came up from the sea. Ottile stood up to go.

"Come along, Cuthbert," said she. "I'll give you a lift back to the hotel."

Dunning shook his head. "No, honey," he answered. "I mustn't be seen around you and I'd be glad if, when you shift to the Carlton, you would kindly warn your uncle that my face, to him, is virgin country without a recognizable landmark."

He took his lumbering way across the terrace and a moment later Hugo and I escorted the girl to her car. She was still flushed and resentful, but as she settled in the driver's seat, a sudden, impish gleam flashed in her eye.

"Goodbye, Mr. Stern!" she said offering him a hand which he accepted with extreme reluctance. "You've taught me my place—I'll stay home and sit on my eggs, but I won't promise what I'll hatch out of them."

The big white car shot away down the lane, and I turned to Hugo. "Well," I inquired, a trifle maliciously, "what do you make of young America?"

"I think," said he, choosing his words deliberately "that she is a very remarkable young woman." And with that he turned on his heel, and marched into the house.

I strolled off to my packing; but as I passed the living room, Hugo halted me. "You're not going before dinner?" said he. "Man, if you're right, and that woman suspects you, you're mad to think of eating in the hotel. You'll be finding chopped bamboo in your breakfast cereal. Live there, if you must, but take your meals here."

"I'll certainly be glad to do that after tonight," I told him, "but one dinner I must sit through down there. I've got to check over my fellow-guests."

He grunted. "Well, at least take only one bag with you and leave the rest of your traps here. You may have to clear out in a hurry."

That was sound common sense, and accordingly I threw my shaving tackle and a few garments into a suitcase, heaved it and myself into the Hispano, and let him drive me down to the hotel. He left me at the gates, and I crossed the gravelled sweep and pushed open the big glass doors.

I found myself in a wide, tiled vestibule, running straight across the house to more glass doors, through which I glimpsed a broad terrace. To the right through lofty arches, I saw a big sitting-hall, richly and soberly furnished, and as I entered, from behind an office counter on the left there rose a dapper young man in a white coat that I took to be the chasseur who inquired politely: "C'est Monsieur Loomsden, non? Your room awaits you," he added. "One moment, please!"

He touched a bell, and next instant a big, burly, aproned fellow in blue overalls appeared, possessed himself of my bag and led me up a broad staircase to another tiled corridor that seemed to run the whole length of the house. The place was cool and dignified. It might, from the look of it, have been the private house of some aristocratic but impoverished family, and for a moment a cold fear gripped me, for I felt convinced that I was following a wild-goose chase. But the Club des Sans Clubs met here; Geiss's strange visitor was the housekeeper and furthermore she had undoubtedly recognized my name.

My room was small and bare, but adequately furnished, and I dressed in a hurry, to the extent of a clean white shirt and linen coat, and went down to dinner. The dining room was long and lofty. The food was excellent. My fellow-guests offered no food for the imagination for they consisted of a dozen stolid, middle-class French families. As I looked down the long, shadowed room I was conscious again of a profound misgiving. Suppose I had ridiculously overstepped myself in imagining that something of importance lay hidden here; suppose I was wasting my time while the real heart of the mystery lay snugly concealed miles away?

Disordered Imagination?
Twice I saw the housekeeper pass across the corridor, and once she came inside the room and stood for a moment, watching the service, but she never looked my way. I was completely convinced that Jean-Francois's story had been the result of a disordered imagination.

The meal drew to a close and I stepped out on the terrace and lit a cigarette. A middle-aged, portly Frenchman in white shirt and oose alpaca trousers paused beside me and passed the time of day politely.

"There will be a wind," said he, me, for when I peered cautiously round the angle of the wall, I saw her standing under a street lamp. I drew back discreetly into the shadow, and it was just as well that I did so, for a couple of minutes later I heard the drone of a powerful engine rapidly approaching and next instant a big black car pulled in to the curb beside her.

The housekeeper climbed nimbly in and the big car came roaring on towards me, whizzing past at a good sixty miles an hour. Its passing was so swift that I hadn't time to notice much, but two things I saw: first, that the driver was a dark, sturdily built man, with about the most saturnine face I had ever seen on a human neck; and second, that there was another passenger inside, for I caught an instant's glimpse of another man, in the act of holding a cupped match to a cigarette—a pale, thin, sinister face with a long, drooping nose, prominent eyes, and a pinched mouth—a face I had never seen before.

Miss Cathryn Buchner Captures President's Trophy in Golf Event

Miss Cathryn Buchner captured trophy honors in the annual women's tournament for the president's award, completed yesterday at the Dixon Country club course. Miss Buchner, leading a field of nine players competing for the trophy, turned in a score of nine down on bogey in the 54-hole handicap event.

The trophy, provided by President George Beier, is an attractive streamlined, chromium-plated water pitcher. Other scores in the tourney were:

Mrs. Harold Coss, 10 down; Mrs. Floyd Chapman, 10 down; Mrs. Robert Brewster, 11 down; Mrs. C. A. Buchner, 11 down; Miss Elsie Neff, 12 down; Miss Mary Katherine Rorer, 12 down; Miss Marian L. Davies, 13 down; and Mrs. George Beier, 16 down.

Fourteen players were out for Monday evening's two-ball mixed foursome match. No prizes were awarded.

RETURNING TO SEMINARY

William Kmet, who has been acting as assistant to the Rev. Lloyd W. Walter, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, during the summer, plans to return to Maywood tomorrow evening for his senior year at Chicago Lutheran Theological seminary. Since coming to Dixon early in June, Mr. Kmet has made many friends in the city.

On Tuesday evening, Sunday school classes taught by Mr. Wick and Mr. Kmet honored the seminary with a scramble supper in Lowell park. The supper, planned by Edwin Bollman, Harry Herbst and Harold Boyer, was preceded by a ball game arranged by Vern Clark.

In behalf of his classmates, Earl Senneff expressed appreciation for Mr. Kmet's work in the church, and the honor guest thanked the various groups whose interest and co-operation made possible his coming to Dixon. Attendance at Sunday school has shown an increase of from 20 to 90 members each Sunday over last summer's record.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Walter and children, Grace, Wilkey and Lloyd, Jr., and Miss Emma R. Weed are due back in Dixon tomorrow, after a fortnight's vacation at Lac du Flambeau, Wis.

GREENBERG SAYS HIS CHANCES OF RECORD ARE SLIM

Slugger is Still Trying to Break Ruth's Peak of Home Runs

New York, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Hank Greenberg, the slugging Detroit first baseman, says his chances of beating Babe Ruth's old record of 60 home runs in a season are slim. Unlike a lot of players, though, he's frank to admit he's in there trying.

The old Bronx boy was found snapping at a bowl of breakfast prunes in the restaurant of the New Yorker. Hank's parents still dwell in the Bronx, incidentally, and it is a matter of record that he would have been playing for the Yankees today if the Yanks hadn't been pretty well fixed for first basemen.

"I'd say I'm about a 10-to-1 shot to break the Babe's mark," he said, tentatively. "It's been a strain ever since they started touting me to knock 61 homers. Every time I come to bat I'm trying for one. The fans want them. The result is my batting average has slipped to about .299."

Giving Intentional Passes
"Another factor which hurts my chances is that they're giving me more intentional passes than ever, just like they did to Ruth. And I guess they're dusting me off a bit, too. I've been hit by pitched balls twice in the last couple of games."

Hank, at the moment of finishing his prunes, had clouted 45 into the cheap seats. That placed him exactly nine games and three home-runs ahead of the Babe's lavish mark. He got to doing some thinking.

"There's three tough parks for a right-handed hitter like me to get homers," he considered. "Here in Yankee Stadium and in Cleveland and Washington. Detroit, Boston, St. Louis, Chicago and Philadelphia are all right. I'll hit them in those five."

Figures It Out
"Now, let's see, I've got 56 games left to knock 16 homers. That would give me one more than Ruth's mark. We've got three games left in New York, five in Cleveland, which gives me 28 games in parks where I know I can drive them for four bases."

"My best bet, of course, is out in Detroit, where we've got 24 games left. Two apiece are left in Chicago and St. Louis. There's a possibility that we'll have to play off a tie with St. Louis, which would give me an extra game."

"But here's where I'm handicapped. We're going into September, and that's usually bad weather for homers. There's the wind and there's the cold weather, which dulls the hitting. And, finally, the pitchers gain an advantage because shadows fall over the playing field earlier, making it tougher on the batters."

INJURIES FATAL

Chicago, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Joseph Kolin, 40, a deputy bailiff of the municipal court who was injured in an airplane accident Sunday, died today in the Holy Cross hospital.

The plane, piloted by Raymond Cheyvedden, 35, crashed from a height of 2,000 feet. Cheyvedden and another passenger, Albert Kuchis, 28, suffered skull fractures.

When danger threatens, the parent grebe tucks its young under its wings and dives under water.

Frank Andrews of the University of Illinois took some time at the local field while he was conducting the horse pulling contest.

E. P. Jacoby of Sterling flew over on Saturday to attend the horse show and renew acquaintances.

Ray Collins of the Ideal Cleaners flew over on Sunday to attend the local fair and horse show and to have some work done on his ship by the licensed mechanic.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lack and Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt Schnell expect to attend the national air races in Cleveland over Labor Day. Robert Ball will manage the airport until the return of Mr. Schnell.

THE FEED TROUGH

One of the favorite pastimes of old-time economists was figuring how large a percentage of its population any government could support. Estimates ran as low as 8 per cent and as high as 15 per cent. The persons under consideration were government employees such as clerks, postmen, legislators, executives, judges, chief magistrate, ministers and diplomats, and the largest group in mind was included in the armed forces—army and navy.

It was some time thereafter, as men learned to gain favor of voters by promising jobs to influential persons who could give away wards, precincts and districts, that the number of payrollers became a menace to stable government and national solvency. The New Deal has made the issue so plain that any one can see it.

News reports now are that 15 1/2 million persons out of the total population of the United States are receiving either a part or all of their income from the federal government. The federal government, unable to pay the bills, has been borrowing money to pay expenses. Interest is paid on the loans, and it is possible even for the dizziest of Mr. Roosevelt's advisers to foresee the consequences.

Even the government agencies which sponsor loans to individuals for residence construction demand better business tactics than that.

At any rate the objection to a certain class of federal employees is that they are non-producers of goods, yet they consume goods. In other words, the producers, in order to have the services of these non-producers, whatever they are worth, must produce more than they normally would. That is, they must work harder to earn the money with which to pay the taxes.

We do not know, at present, how many persons the government can support without a breakdown of its economic machinery. The New Deal seems bent on finding out by experimentation.

Under a primitive economic and industrial system a government could support fewer, perhaps, than could a more modern system, but there is a limit even under mass production of manufactured articles, mechanized farming and money and credit manipulation.

No one doubts that the services of many non-producers employed by the government are worth having. Without the traditional officeholders such as legislators, jurists and executives, and the army and navy, our government would break down. Many of the remainder are mere luxuries which we have felt we could afford to maintain. Then, in addition to these are many who would not be on the payrolls except for their votes or their vote-getting power. Add to these the employees who are on the rolls frankly because they are otherwise unemployed, and the economic drain is tremendous.

The government has so many offices that it has overflowed the District of Columbia and extended their quarters into nearby Maryland and Virginia.

BEWARE OF LABOR DAY

Officials of the National Safety Council have appealed to newspaper editors to call attention of the public to the fact that 8580 Americans were killed in accidents during September of 1937. Labor Day was, in 1937, a sort of focus date for accidents, and probably it will be so this year. What was intended to be an innocent holiday in honor of men who toil has become a day of peril, and the Saturday and Sunday preceding it have become almost as dangerous.

People often wish to make long trips over the week-end, and in order to do so they crowd into their schedule many miles of unwonted driving over crowded highways. The increased traffic, the fatigue of drivers and the probability that there will be incompetent car-operators on the roads constitute a serious hazard. People build bonfires in which children's clothing become ignited. Persons unaccustomed to swimming often overdo themselves in case the day is warm,
and are overcome by cramps or exhaustion.

Sometimes it is said there is no such thing as an unavoidable accident. Whether this is true or not it is apparent that most accidents, by proper foresight and caution, could be averted. Human life is not cheap in the United States, and a record of more than 8000 deaths in a single month,
centering on Labor day, must be reduced.

By driving carefully we may assume that we are saving somebody's life. It is better to look at it that way than to drive otherwise and admit in our hearts that we are endangering a life, even if it is only our own.

RURAL LETTER BOXES

Rural mail carriers in convention assembled were impressed with the design of a mailbox intended to eliminate the wrestling which has been required to open the boxes
ever since the R. F. D. was inaugurated.

Ordinarily with the rural mail box flatteringly known as "standard" the mail carrier is apt to find the front door stubborn out of all proportion to the principle of keeping the carrier out. Sometimes the carrier can open some of the boxes without leaving his car, simply by a light, quick tug. But in too many cases it is necessary for him to get out of his automobile and do battle with the receptacle. In places the boxes are anchored firmly to posts set deep into the ground; but along some of the better kept highways the posts are removable for the benefit of graders and those who mow weeds.
Such a contraption in the dead of winter, with the mail-

PLANS OF LOVE- LAND MEMORIAL BUILDING SHOWN

Explained by Architect and Chairman of Board of Trustees Tuesday

A group of about 100 citizens, representing civic bodies, churches, patriotic organizations and other Dixon bodies were in attendance at the Elks club house yesterday afternoon to see the plans for the Loveland Community House. The architect, John Leonard Hamilton of Winnetka and Chicago, was presented by F. X.
Newcomer, chairman of the board of trustees, and briefly explained
the plans drawn for the local community house and outlined the program of the community house in Winnetka.

"Dixon has an almost unheard-of opportunity in having been presented by one of your citizens with a beautiful building and plant, an institution which will do immeasurable good in this community," Hamilton said. "Twenty-five years from now the Loveland Community House in Dixon can be a great institution or a deserted building, depending upon your cooperation as citizens."

No Discrimination
"A Community House should be carefully guarded against race, creed or social distinction both in actualities and semblance. Only through the proper equal supervision can it become the success
for which it was intended."

Briefly Mr. Hammond outlined various organizations and bodies
using the Winnetka Community House, some of which are: women's organizations, American Legion, educational organizations,
Boy and Girl and Cub Scout troops, church, community, musical, political and social groups,
political gatherings, gymnasium
and other activities.

"You citizens of Dixon have the very best opportunity to be offered, and by finding interested group leaders, with your activity and support, you can make this institution a great success," he added. "The trustees and architect seek the support and suggestions of local interests and it is our hope that the citizens of Dixon give assurance that we are headed in the right direction."

Proposed Provisions.
He explained the outline of the plans and presented them for inspection and suggestions. Included in the building are: rifle range, bowling alley, a museum
as suggested in the Loveland will,
little theater and assembly hall,
the latter to serve as dancing hall
with kitchen adjoining; children's play and club rooms to be located on the basement level; visitors'
rooms on the first floor; meeting rooms to be assigned to various clubs and societies; two large club rooms the dimensions of which are 25 by 40, with kitchenettes, and several smaller rooms
to be assigned to clubs for meetings. The auditorium, he explained, would be equipped with opera chairs with a seating capacity of 500, and with inclined floor and stage.

Departments for physical culture and similar activities had not been included, the architect stated, these facilities having been provided for in the high school and other buildings.

Suggestions Made.
Suggestions as to changes in the plans were started by Mayor William Slothower who suggested that space in the building be made available for the use of the women's community music organization and for winter band concerts, to which Architect Hamilton replied that such changes could be made as the ground was available, the only question being a matter of cost.

Walter Smith referring to a meeting room for the American Legion and its allied bodies, stated that the total membership of all amounted to about 500 persons.
Elwin Wadsworth, who stated that he appeared as a representative of the Dixon Lions club and several thousand citizens of Dixon, suggested that a municipal swimming pool, which would be enclosed for use the year around,
be incorporated in the plans as a civic necessity to keep children from the river. He also suggested an ice skating rink on the property.

Rev. B. Norman Burke of St.
Luke's Episcopal church, stated that he spoke for no organization
but expressed his regret and that of many citizens that no arrangement had been incorporated in the plans for a public swimming pool.
Pool Too Expensive.
Mr. Newcomer responded to both suggestions by stating that the trustees were using the funds for the purpose for which they were intended by the donors. He added that he personally was not opposed to a swimming pool, but that such an expenditure was possively out of the question and could not be done.

Architect Hamilton, who has had wide experience in drawing plans for swimming pools and is now interested in pools for high schools, said swimming pools were expensive items which cannot be built cheaply and must be built well for sanitation and supervision. He gave his opinion that pools should be operated at public expense and from tax revenue.
In the Loveland Community
House, he said, there is no way to incorporate such a plan.

He cited as an example, the plan of a wealthy Winnetka citizen who planned to build a pool.
The cost of construction and the accessories, he stated, was $65,- 000 and the operating cost $7,000 annually. The prospective donor after being furnished the estimates abandoned his plan, he said.

Urged Federal Grant.
Attorney Wadsworth stated that the citizens of Dixon were not acquainted with the provisions of the bequest and the plans which they feel should be associated with the Community House, and suggested further that a more detailed explanation would be more satisfying. He proposed securing a federal grant to be used in conjunction with the Loveland bequest to provide other needed civic projects.

Mr. Newcomer in answer stated that he would not vote contrary to the wishes of those who furnished the money for the building of the community house and thus betray a confidence. He added that in the Loveland will no reference to a swimming pool appeared, and that the trustees had never contended or suggested that a pool be included. He suggested that those citizens who remain in doubt after an explanation has been published, consult with Mrs. Loveland's sister for verification.

Mayor Slothower announced that no citizen of Dixon was more interested in the building of a pool than himself, and that agitation for one had existed in Dixon for many years. He then asked Mr. Newcomer the question: "If it were possible to build a swimming pool in this building,
to be operated without any charge to the users, would there be sufficient money to maintain the building, to which Trustee Newcomer replied that there would not."

Sterling Pool Loses.
Mayor Slothower then stated that the city of Sterling appropriated $7,000 annually for the maintenance of its community building, in addition to all revenue received, while the Loveland Community House would be operated without any revenue or charge. To this, he added that the swimming pool at Sterling had shown a loss in revenue for the past six or seven years.

Rev. Burke added some criticisms favoring the pool and eliminating other departments. Rev.
Howard Buxton of the Methodist church suggested a room of sufficient size to be used for sports
activities for persons of all ages, desiring such recreation. In closing the suggestions hour, Trustee Newcomer explained in answer to a question that an all-time supervisor and custodian
would be necessary in directing the activities and caring for the building.

FRIDAY'S BAND CONCERT FINAL ONE OF SEASON

Next Friday evening's concert
by the Dixon Municipal band directed by Orville Westgar, will be the final program of the summer season. The program will be presented at the court house square at 8 o'clock Friday evening with Eugene Lebre and the vocal ensemble, all members of the band being featured.

One of the numbers on the program, "The Desert Song" selection, which scored such a distinct hit in the spring concert given at the high school auditorium,
has been especially selected for this closing concert. Another popular number on symphonic broadcasts is, "The Dance of the Comedians," from "The Battered Bride," by Smetana.

The band concerts this season
have been increasingly popular.
The fact that the audience has to stand in order to get a glimpse of the musicians has not dampened
the ardor of the band-loving public of Dixon and vicinity. This has been demonstrated by the large attendance at each concert.

Some clouds are 10 miles thick.

box door frozen shut and the mail carrier's hands likewise,
affords one of the reasons why everybody doesn't rush an application for that sort of job. Add to these complications the fact that the mail carrier may be wearing mittens, and be trying to retain a handful of mail in one mittened hand while with the other he struggles with a handful of pennies, and you will understand that such a man earns his money.

Somebody ought to do something about it. The new mailbox, if it is approved, will permit the carrier to open the box merely by pressing a button. When the button is pressed the top of the box flies up. Conservative carriers found fault with the proposed design, however, and it is by no means certain of adoption.

Washington — There is a big shock in store for Democratic politicians in all the purge states.
They have been impatiently
looking forward to the completion of the primaries in September as the end of the White House's purging operations. Once the primaries were out of the way the boys figured all would be forgiven and forgotten and they would be welcomed back as good Democrats once more.

Well, they are mistaken.
The finish of the primaries will not finish the purge. It will be the start of a new and much tougher one. From then on the president intends to move in on the patronage office-holders who,
as one White House intimate expresses it, have been "biting the hand that feeds them."

In other words, the henchmen
of anti-New Deal Democratic Senators and Congressmen are slated for the axe.

Regardless of whether such men as Senators George of Georgia, Tydings of Maryland, and McCarran of Nevada win or lose in their primaries, the state machines they have built up through patronage obtained from the White House are going to be smashed by the White House.

Hereafter the test of an appointee to a key federal local job
will not be who is sponsoring him but whether the appointee is a dependable White House supporter. And the test isn't only going to apply to the anti-administra-
tionites up for election this year.

It will apply to Vice President
Jack Garner, Senator Burt
Wheeler, Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, Senator Pat Harrison,
Senator Josiah Bailey of North Carolina, and other anti-New Deal chieftains.

1940 Behind the new White House strategy, of course, is 1940.

For a long time Roosevelt's liberal advisers have been telling him that it was hopeless to attempt to unseat anti-administrationites on Capitol Hill if he persisted in arming them with patronage ammunition in their home bailiwicks.

Opposition of federal appointees to various New Deal candidates, plus reports from all over the country that anti-administration Democrats are using patronage to build up machines to oppose Roosevelt's control of the 1940 convention, finally convinced him that the purge should continue.

He told Jim Farley of his intention at the day-long conference of the House judiciary committee.

The veteran Texan was in one of the capitol's stationery stores
when he overheard a young woman ask a clerk to order a geographical globe for her. Bowling politely, Sumners interposed.

"Miss, if you will permit me, I wouldn't buy that globe just yet.
I'd wait until those European countries get themselves straightened out. I ordered one of those globes a few months ago, and you know, before it was delivered it was out of date."

Merry-Go-Round
Inside to the South Carolina
primary fight is Senator Jimmy Byrnes and the fact that Senator Cotton Ed Smith, now 74 years old, may drop out without serving a full term. In that case, Byrnes and his friends would rather have one of their men in the Senate than Governor Olin Johnston, whom they cannot control. . . . One thing which has handicapped the Camp campaign against Senator George of Georgia is the lack of any energetic WPA program. Miss Shep-pardson, WPA administrator, has a program, but it has not progressed far. . . . Another New Deal handicap in Georgia is the wrath of labor unions at having wages
cut on PWA projects despite the denials of the local administrator.

... Mrs. Roosevelt's riding horses are transported from Washington to Hyde Park during the summer and quartered in the mid-Victorian but very roomy stable there. . . . "Heaven," new sanctum of Father Divine, is easily discernible across the Hudson from the Roosevelt home.
There are several Negro camps
along the Hudson, all having a reputation for neatness and cleanliness. At Father Divine's new "Heaven," picknickers can get a lunch which includes cold lamb
and watermelon, all for fifteen cents.

The fact that he had no job and no prospects didn't worry Tanis.
She fell in love with him, and they planned marriage.
This was reported to Papa Tugwell by Margaret Valiant, Tanis-boss in the pageant project. Tugwell's reply was significant. He said: "You can't spank a 21-year-old child."

But he became more concerned
when he heard they actually had taken out a marriage license. He wired her to return at once to Washington. This and another wire from Rex Tugwell's mother on Lake Ontario, brought Tanis back in the company of disapproving Miss Valiant.

In Washington, Tanis stayed away from the office for three days and stoutly denied that she planned marriage. She insisted that there must be another girl named Tanis Tugwell in the little town of Crossville, Tennessee.
But she is the intended bride.

Note—At the moment Miss Tugwell's parents are going through a divorce action.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

A fascinating pastime with

Albert Edward Wiggam, S. S.
Author of
"THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea," (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. This is the statement of William Lyon ("Billy") Phelps of Yale. Many will call it "soft,"
"silly," "sentimental," but it comes from one of the most rugged spirits in our American life.
This simple habit would do more to keep love alive than a lot of psychiatric procedures necessary as they sometimes are—and about run the divorce courts out of business.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. Night blindness is a distinctly inherited trait traced in one family for over 300 years.

Such persons cannot see in a dim light, must stop working at sunset and in extreme cases cannot go about by street lamps, unless the lights are very bright. Yet many such persons are driving on our highways. One famous feud family of the South has had night blindness for generations—
which may have saved some of their enemies! It is often apparently inherited somewhat like color-blindness, the women transmitting it to half their sons but rarely showing it themselves.

Many auto drivers develop it from lack of vitamin A in their diet.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. It is a terrible blow to a child to fail to pass in school, and the effects often last through life. Where schools are so organized that each child has tasks that arouse its interest and are within its ability, failures are pretty rare. The worst difficulty is that most schools are geared for the average child so that

JAPAN REJECTS U. S. PROTESTS

Makes No Apology for Bombing of China- American Liner

Tokyo, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The Japanese government tonight rejected on all counts the protest of the United States against the destruction of a Chinese-American airliner near Canton, South China
by Japanese war planes on Aug.
24.

The Japanese reply to the protest delivered Aug. 26 by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew admitted, however, that the attack of Japanese planes continued after the airliner had alighted on a small river between Canton and Macao.

Fourteen persons aboard the plane, all Chinese, are believed to have been killed, either by Japanese bullets or by drowning. The only American aboard, Pilot H. L.
Woods of Winfield, Kas., escaped injury and two Chinese survived,
one wounded.

(The American note registered
"emphatic protest" against "the jeopardizing in this way of the lives of American as well as other non-combatant occupants of unarmed civilian planes" and also pointed out that the destroyed
airliner was the property of the China National Aviation Corporation, in which "Pan American Airways has a very substantial interest.")

The foreign office spokesman said Japan was compelled to reject the protest because Tokyo's information differed from that apparently reaching the American authorities.

(The American version was drawn chiefly from Pilot Woods who reported that five Japanese planes attacked his plane while it was en route from Hongkong to Chungking, machine-gunned it in the air, compelling him to set it down on the river, and continued

the machine-gunning after the plane had alighted.)

"I can say positively that the machine-gunning ended as soon as the plane's identity was established," the foreign office spokesman asserted. He did not say, however, when the identification
was made.

SCARBORO

Scarboro—Mr. and Mrs. Cary

STUDENTS REGISTER

Professor J. Bernon Nelson, principal of the Walnut grade school, reports a registration of 155 pupils on Monday. This number will be enlarged to almost 200 as many were not aware of or able to register, this being the first registration in the history of the grade school. An additional teacher, Miss Mabel Kafoed, will teach the fourth grade. She will also have departmental work of the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades. Miss Meisenheimer will have spelling, health and English. English will be divided into two phases, reading and grammar combined. Miss Bailey will have writing, civics, social science, and history and geography combined. A new course, general science for 7th grade will be taught by Professor Nelson. He will also have mathematics and a course in applied science. A course in physical training will be given to those who desire it. The alternative will be study hall period. This is the first opportunity that both boys and girls may share in athletics. Miss Mary Davis will have charge of music, four days a week; also speech art, and art. These courses will enable the pupil to have a better appreciation and understanding of higher education. Certain changes have been necessary to accommodate the pupils and Professor Nelson hopes to keep them at a minimum cost, however one room will be added to take care of the first graders. Prof. Nelson has instituted a good rounded-out system of education and with the efficient corps of teachers and the co-operation of the Mothers' club, the Walnut grade school will be sure of a very successful year.

DIXON SOFTBALL TEAM DOWNED BY ASHTON LAST EVE

Sterling Trims Shabbona
As Tournament Moves
To Third Night

The Ashton Invitational Softball tournament rolls merrily on. Some survive and others fall by the wayside. Among the wayside-fallers last night was the strong California Market team of Dixon which was defeated by Ashton 5 to 4.

The Marketeers imported five players from Freeport but even this reinforcement didn't hold back the flooding tide of the Ashton club which is out to do its best in its own tournament.

G. Vaupel did the mound work for Ashton and Eckhart was behind the plate. California Market used Brault and Criddle on the mound and Murphy did the receiving.

Ashton collected its first score in the last of the first frame on two hits and an error on Shires Miller at shortstop. The inning ended with Ashton in the lead, 1-0.

In the second chapter with the Dixon club up Brault and Criddle walked after two was one away, but scoring hopes went down with Witzleb and Murphy who both whiffed.

In Ashton's part of the same inning Brault struck out two after allowing a runner to reach first on an error and second on a passed ball. There was no score, however.

Beautiful Catch
Criddle made a beautiful running dive for a nab at C. Vaupel's drive into left field in the last of the third to snuff any Ashton hopes of scoring in that chapter.

In the fourth inning for California Market Anderson walked, Miller fanned, Anderson stole second, Ellis struck out and Brault was out from second to first.

Ashton came to bat and with one away Kersten was walked, P. Vaupel singled to put Kersten on second. Eckhart struck out, Daily singled scoring Kersten and the inning ended 2 to 0 in Ashton's favor.

Criddle singled in the first of the fifth for the Marketeers first hit. Witzleb forced Criddle out at second, Murphy was out to first unassisted and Hasselburg was struck out.

Criddle came in to pitch for Brault in the last of the fifth and Brault went to shortfield. Moye singled and went to second on a passed ball. Arnold was set out at first and Moye went to third. C. Vaupel went down for the second away from third to first. Moye scored on Witzleb's error. Ellis made a beautiful nab of the ball hit to left field to end the inning on the 3 to 0 count.

Dixon Scores
In the sixth inning Boyd of California Market singled, Kuhn struck out. Boyd went to second on passed ball. Anderson walked, Boyd and Anderson advanced to second and third on passed ball. Miller forced Boyd at home — third to catcher — Ellis singled to score Anderson and Miller scored on C. Vaupel's error on throw to third. Ellis went to third. Brault fanned and the inning ended with two runs, two hits and one error to make the score 3-2.

In the last of the sixth Ashton scored on singles by Henert and Kersten and scored two runs on one hit and one error to make the score 5-2.

In the last of the seventh Criddle, on the mound for Dixon, struck out three straight, bang, bang, bang.

In the eighth Boyd of Dixon was out from short to first. Kuhn singled. Kinzer batted for Hasselburg and struck out, Miller doubled and ground rules held him to second and Kuhn to third. Ellis went down from third to first to end scoring threats.

In Last Inning
In the last frame Brault of the Dixon team reached first on an error by shortstop and Guntherman ran for Brault. Criddle was out on a fly to short field, Guntherman went to second after the catch, Witzleb was out from third to first and Guntherman went to scoring position after the play. Murphy singled to score Guntherman, stole second and went to third on a passed ball. Kreiger — in place of Anderson — reached first on an error by shortfielder and Murphy scored to bring the score to 5 to 4. Boyd went down on a fly to right field and the game was over.

In the opening game Sterling with 6 runs, eight hits and 4

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON

FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Tomorrow has been set for the first pigskin practice by many of the teams in this area as the first call for candidates is issued. More in detail about all this later.

NICE WORK

Challand who was pitching for Shabbona in a game with Sterling at the Ashton tournament was on the mound for one of his first games in that position. He chalked up 16 strike-outs which included the first six to face him and eight out of the first nine. Not bad!

WEST BROOKLYN TO PLAY
The strong West Brooklyn baseball team which is sharing a three-way tie with Dixon and Walton in the Illinois State Baseball league, will play the prisoners at Stateville Saturday afternoon. George Weber, the manager, has announced. About 25 fans from West Brooklyn will trot along to support their players.

FOR CLUB SUPREMACY
Two teams under the leadership of Cal Tyler and Bob Bracken will tangle for supremacy at the Dixon Country club tomorrow. All members who desire to play in this match are requested to phone their registration in at the pro shop. Play will start at 3 p. m., but those coming out at 5 p. m. may enter as nine holes will count as three points the same as eighteen. Under the rules of the match, all losers will be "stuck" for their conqueror's dinner which will follow the match.

NO GAMES HERE
Interest in the football game between the Redskins and the college All Stars has eclipsed the softball in Dixon and the games scheduled for tonight have been called off so that you can listen to the pigskin affair. However, tomorrow is another day and after the Collegians and Professionals have sailed away another game, softball will be resumed at the Airport when the Telegraph meets the Dixon Fruit company in the first game and California Market and Home Lumber will conclude the evening's events.

PLAY-OFF ARRANGEMENTS
Manager Cummings of the Dixon Knacks met with the president of the Illinois State Baseball league and the managers of West Brooklyn and Walton at Mendota yesterday and arranged plans for the play-off of the three-way tie which has the league all knotted. On Sunday Walton will play the Knacks here at Reynolds field. September 11 Dixon plays at West Brooklyn and on the following Sunday, September 18, West Brooklyn will play at Walton. The team which collects the first two games wins the championship of the league.

TONIGHT AT ASHTON
Going into the third evening of play at the Ashton softball tournament Amboy and Black Farms of Dixon will play in the evening game and Brown Bilt of Rochelle and the Carlson Brothers of Dixon will ring down the curtain. Included in the Carlson line-up are Wilbur in right field, Bones in short field, Eddie in center field, Bert (Swede) in shortstop position, George in left field, Art at second base and Bus at first. Completing the line-up of the seven brothers, it is expected that Earl Flanagan will be at third base, Hubert Neuhausen behind the plate and Jensen as pitcher.

Decatur Is Back in League's 2nd Place

Chicago, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Decatur was back in second place today in its fight for runner up honors to Evansville in the Three Eye League race.

The Commies defeated Bloomington 7 to 2 last night behind the five-hit pitching of Murray Dickson. Springfield, meanwhile, fell before Evansville 8 to 3 when the Bees uncorked a five-run rally in the eighth to break a 3 to 3 tie. Moline pounded out 25 hits in crushing Cedar Rapids 12 to 2, while Waterloo shut out Clinton 6 to 0 on the three-hit pitching of Voegler.

errors defeated Shabbona with 1 run, six hits and four errors. Battery for Shabbona included Challand on the mound and Houghty behind the plate. For Sterling the battery was Kolser, pitching King, catching.

FOOTBALL'S BEST TO BEGIN BATTLE AT 7:30 THIS EVE

Starting Lineups of Redskins-All Stars Game Announced

Chicago, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Tonight's the night Sammy Adrian Baugh, football's most publicized passer, returns to Soldier Field seeking to restore to professional ranks the supremacy he stole from them with one heave of his right arm.

At that time a crowd of approximately 80,000 saw the Texan pitch the college All Stars to a 6 to 0 triumph over the professional champion Green Bay Packers.

Tonight another crowd of 80,000 may see another demonstration by the redoubtable Baugh, now star of the Washington Redskins, or perhaps an equally peerless performance by the collegians, and Colorado's famed Whizzer White.

The contest will be the rubber game of a series which began four years ago. Each side has won a game. Two tilts ended in ties.

Against Baugh, the field general of Quarterback Riley Smith and the heavier, more experienced and favored pro eleven, the collegians will pit passers White, Cecil Isbell of Purdue and a supporting cast of ball carriers, kickers and linemen selected by popular vote from all over the nation.

Passes with Precision
White, who has deferred a Rhodes scholarship to play with the Pittsburgh pros, this season for $15,000, gained renown last year more for his ball carrying. But in All Star practices he has zipped short passes with precision. Isbell shoots them the longer distances. Their ace receivers will include Andy Pupils of Notre Dame, Jim Benton of Arkansas and Jim Birr of Indiana.

Whizzer will not be in the starting backfield, which consists of Pupils, Isbell, Andy Uram of Minnesota and Frank Patrick of Pittsburgh. Head Coach Bo McMillin of Indiana must start the team selected in the poll. After that, however, he will be free to substitute as he sees fit.

Marty Schreyer, Purdue tackle, is the only collegian selected in the poll who will not start. He injured his knee in the first scrimmage two weeks ago. Fred Shirey of Nebraska, third in the voting, will replace him.

Line-Ups
The starting line-ups: Redskins Pos. All Stars
Miller le Schwartz (Calif.)

The "champeen" marathoner of Dixon is Miss Elsie Neff (above left) who won that distinction by traveling around the Dixon country club links ten times last Friday in the marathon tournament conducted by the ladies of the club. Miss Neff took 512 strokes for the 90 holes. At the right is Miss Mary Catherine Rorer who had an average of 53.1 for the 54 holes which she played.

FAMILIAR FACES EXPECTED TO BE IN GOLF TOURNAY

Battle for the Amateur Crown Starts at Oakmont
on September 12

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
If returns from a day's firing on 31 golf courses mean anything, the old familiar faces will be in the fore when the battle for the National Amateur Championship starts at Oakmont September 12.

For, although they produced the usual crop of medalist morning glories, the qualifying rounds of 36-holes also showed general adherence to form.

The 156 qualifiers plus 14 players exempted from the qualifying rounds, a group that includes eight ex-champions and the defending champion Johnny Goodman, will form the field of 170 at Oakmont.

Leaders for yesterday's play were Ven Savage, the long hitting Magna, Utah, golfer who holds the trans-Mississippi championship, and Roger Kelly of Los Angeles, twice California amateur champion. Savage scored 134 on a 69 and a 65 to clip ten strokes from par at Salt Lake City while Kelly set a course record of 134 with a 68 and a 66 at Los Angeles.

Two strokes behind the leaders was Ed Kingsley, Savage's fellow townsman, who was runner-up in the trans-Mississippi play Kingsley scored 68-68—136 and was two strokes better than Marvin (Bud) Ward, the Olympia (Wash.) Walker Cupper, who was eight under regulation with 69-69—138 in the Bethel, Wash., play.

Good to Walker Cuppers.
The qualifying rounds were good to Walker Cuppers. Three more qualified with Ward at Bethel, Harry Givan, Seattle, 70-72—142; Jack Westland, Seattle, 74-70—144; and Scotty Campbell, 65-77—145. Don Moe, a fifth cup player in the brilliant field, failed to qualify with 152.

Although he didn't come close to leading the field, Ray Billows, of Poughkeepsie, last year's amateur runner-up came in under the wire in the metropolitan play with 150. This was seven strokes off the pace set by Dick Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., who carded 72-71—143 to lead 16 qualifiers.

Freddy Haas, Jr., like Billows a Walker Cup player, knocked together a 140 at New Orleans and Sid Richardson, of Creston, Ia., the Western Conference champion, led the big field at Chicago with the same score. Knox Young, Jr., of Pittsburgh led 12 qualifiers there with 71-69—140 and the little known Jim Fraser of Atlantic City added a course record 67 to a 72 and led the Philadelphia field with 139.

Qualifies Easily.
Reynolds Smith, twice a member of the Walker Cup team, qualified easily at Dallas with 75-69—144 although he was three strokes off the medal score. Chuck Kociss made the championship at Birmingham, Mich.,

Cleveland at Philadelphia — Hudlin (5-6) vs Caster (13-17).

with 73-76—149 two strokes behind the medalist, Bob Babbish, the Western Amateur champion. Babbish posted 75-72—147.

The intercollegiate champion, Johnny Burke, took the medal at Rumford, R. I., with 71-70—141 and 19-year-old Bob Barnell, the Middle Atlantic Junior champion, led eight qualifiers at Washington with 71-72—143. The French amateur champion, Bobby Dunkelberger, got in at Greensboro, N. C., with 148, low enough to win the medal there.

Three of the biggest casualties appeared in the New York field. Gene Homans, former metropolitan champion and the last man to lick the great Bobby Jones in amateur competition, withdrew after a poor first round; George Voight, 1936 Walker Cupper, posted 159, and Mark Stuart, former net titlist, was out of it with 156.

At Chicago Ted Adams of Columbia, Mo., the Canadian amateur champion, fell by the wayside.

PIRATES STAND STILL; PENNANT COMES TO THEM

Giants Able to Give Terry Nothing But Headaches

BY BILL BONI

Associated Press Sports Writer
Will Terry, the soft-spoken hardshell from Memphis, insists the Pittsburgh Pirates aren't backing into the National League pennant. Since the Pittsburgh Pirates stretched their margin to six and a half games by scuppering Will Terry's Giants, 7-1, yesterday, the man obviously had to say something in self-defense.

He may, for that matter, be speaking the truth. But its a cinch that the Pirates, if not backing in, aren't doing much more than standing still and letting the pennant come to them.

The August 1 standings saw Pittsburgh in front by five games, the Giants second by two and a half, and the Chicago Cubs third by one over Cincinnati. Since then the Giants have crawled along at a 444 pace, the Cubs have played 533 ball and the Reds .548. Yet, the Pirates, as of today, had picked up only a game and a half on the Terry-men.

Solution Is Simple
The solution is simple enough. Pie Traynor's Buccaneers, who have been making the opposition walk the plank one afternoon only to go off the deep end themselves the next, have split even in the last month on fifteen victories and fifteen defeats. Just as a basis of comparison, the Yankees over the same stretch won 28 out of 35, for an .800 percentage.

If Pittsburgh has been worrying about meeting the Yanks in the World Series—and who, outside of an armored car, wouldn't? They also might start worrying now about the Cubs and the Reds.

The Giants definitely are in no condition to provide anyone but Terry with headaches. Dick Coffman, the "experimental" starting pitcher, was slugged all over the lot yesterday, principally by Gus Suhr, and, as if Bill didn't have enough on his mind, Dick Bartel reported with a lame elbow so that the infield had to be juggled again.

Reds Rally Twice
While the Pirates were pasting the Giants to a fare-thee-well the Reds rallied twice to whip the Dodgers 5-4 and 7-4, thus moving up five percentage points behind Terry's tottering crew and four behind the Cubs, who lost an 8-1 decision to Milkman Jim Turner and the Boston Bees.

Turner, like Jim Tobin of the Pirates and Whitey Moore in the Reds' nightcap, pitched five-hit ball. Effective pitching also marked the Phillies-Cardinals doubleheader, with Max Butcher bearing down in the pinches to edge out the Cards in the opener, 4-3, and Clyde Shoun hurling one-hit ball in a five inning relief trick as the Cards took the nightcap, 8-7, in the tenth.

American Leaguers also accounted for two handsome pieces of pitching. Spud Chandler, after being nicked for a run in the first, shut out the Detroit Tigers the rest of the way as the Yanks won their fifth straight, 3-1, and John Duncan Rigney of the White Sox held the Senators to six hits in gaining a 3-2 verdict.

The Indians outslugged the Athletics, 10-8, with the help of two home runs by Jeff Heath and another by Bruce Campbell, and the Browns dubbed the Red Sox, 9-5, for Ed Cole's first mound victory of the year.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)
Jim Tobin, and Gus Suhr, Pirates, held the Giants to five hits and Suhr, in perfect day at bat, drove home five runs with triple and double, as Buys won, 7-1.

Buster Mills, Browns—Clouted double and three singles in 9-5 triumph over Red Sox.

Harry Craft and Whitey Moore, Reds—Craft's ninth inning single drove in run that beat Dodgers, 5-4, in opener; Moore's five-hit hurling beat them, 7-4, in second game.

Jeff Heath, Indians—His two home runs helped gain 10-8 decision over Athletics.

Gil Brack, Phillies and Clyde Shoun, Cardinals—Brack hit homer with man on as Phils won first game, 4-3; Shoun's one-hit relief work for five frames marked Cards' 10-inning, 8-7 victory in nightcap.

Bill Dickey and Spud Chandler, Yankees—Dickey's single with the bases loaded furnished deciding margin as Chandler held Tigers to five hits and Yankees won, 3-1.

Jim Turner, Bees—Gave five hits and only two passes in halting Cubs, 8-1.

Once Enough

Boston, Aug. 31.—(AP)—No, mates, that wasn't a typographical error this morning; Doc Cramer, the Red Sox' all-star rubber-armed outfielder, actually did pitch against the St. Louis Browns yesterday.

The fleet gardener always wanted to be a big league pitcher, but now he's not so sure after a debut in which he gave up three hits and two runs in four innings. He also fanned one batter and walked three.

"No sir, that plate is too darned close for comfort," he grinned. "Never again. If I'm going to get killed by one of those line drives, I want more dough."

For a guy who never has won a fight in this country, Tommy Farr's demands for a bout with Gunnar Barlund (35 percent and a cut of the radio rights) would seem a bit exorbitant. . . . ROCKET DRIVER DEAD.

Vienna, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Dr. Fritz Opel, vice chairman of the directorate of the Opel automobile works and at one time an enthusiastic experimenter with rocket-driven automobiles and airplanes, died today of heart disease. He was 63. In 1928 Von Opel drove a rocket-propelled motor car at 100 miles an hour. Later his car was wrecked. A year later he made a short flight in a rocket-driven plane but soon afterward abandoned his experiments. He went to the United States in 1929 to study automobile production methods in General Motors plants.

ADEQUATE FLEET.

Washington, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Admiral William D. Leahy said today the United States fleet, after the present building program is completed, should be adequate to protect the country against any foreign naval force now contemplated.
